Purple Carrots?!

It's true -- until a few hundred years ago, carrots were purple, not orange. Dutch farmers in the late 16th century began to take "mutant" white and yellow carrots and cultivate them selectively until they had developed something closer to the sweet, tasty orange carrots we love today!

This may look like a scene from the North Pole, but believe it or not, this is an image taken in Hawaii just last month! The towering volcanic peaks of the Hawaiian islands are high enough to catch several snow storms a year, some, like this one in December 2021, delivering a foot or more of the white stuff to the highest reaches of our tropical paradise!
